

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, 3 A. M.

DEPARTURE OF TRAINS.

Jeffersonville Railroad,	Arrives at 10 A. M.
—	— and Cain Night Express.
Louisville, New Albany, & Chicago Railroad,	Arrives at 10 A. M.
On the Louisville, New Albany, & Chicago Railroad, New Albany as follows:	7:45 A. M.
Chicago, via Cincinnati, —	7:45 A. M.
St. Louis, Night Express.	7:45 A. M.
Louisville, via New Albany, —	7:45 A. M.
Lexington, via Louisville, —	7:45 A. M.
—	— and Cain Night Express.
Lexington and Louisville Railroad,	Arrives at 10 A. M.
Passenger Train No 1 at —	8:45 A. M.
Passenger Train No 2 at —	9:45 A. M.
Commuter Train at —	4 P. M.
Lexington and Nashville Railroad,	Arrives at 10 A. M.
Bardstown, via Lexington, —	4 P. M.

METEOROLOGICAL RECORD—OCTOBER 10.

CORRECTION DATED BY E. R. WOODWARD.

NOTES AND OBSERVATIONS.

AFFAIRS IN SOUTHWESTERN KENTUCKY.—Mr.

William Cox, an old citizen of Hickman, Ky.,

arrived in this city on Wednesday, having closed

his business at Paducah, in the place, before his return to his home in Hickman.

Mr. Cox reports that business is already at a stand still in Hickman and the adjoining country. A brisk trade was carried on for some time between Hickman and the Southern Confederacy for a long time, but supplies are exhausted and business there has closed.

Mr. Cox travelled by land from Hickman to Paducah, and he describes his journey as very protracted and tedious, but almost everything was better than to risk himself longer in the hands of a relentless and irresponsible mob, who left their victims without reference to legal formalities.

Our informant says it was the plan of the federalists, who claimed a force of forty-five thousand men, to march upon Paducah at an early day, and he would not be surprised to learn at an early day that a collision had taken place between the opposing armies at or near Paducah.

Mr. Cox informs us that it is the great emulation of the army in end about Hickman and Columbus to possess themselves of Paducah and release Donisthorpe, the latter achievement being of their fondest dreams.

The 29th Indiana regiment, Colonel Miller, rushed here last evening from Paducah, and after merging up, into the city to parades of support. Among them we notice particularly the exhibits of the book establishments at Nashville

and Louisville. "Journal," "Daily

"Advertiser," "Daily Courier," "Daily

"Advertiser," "Daily Journal," "Daily Adver-

"sizer," "Daily Courier," "Daily Advertiser,"

"Daily Advertiser," "Daily Courier," "Daily Ad-

"vertiser," "Daily Advertiser," "Daily Adver-

"sizer," "Daily Advertiser," "Daily Adver-

"s